Re: Citation

We are confused as to whether you want to change your plea for your recent citation.

If you are going to appeal the citation you received and by-pass the trial by jury, you must come to court and change your plea to guilty, and request and inform the court that you are going to appeal to Hunt County. You will have five days to make a decision.

After you change your plea you then have 10 days to have your attorney post the appeal bond which is double your fine of $214.00.

Please let us know if you are going to appeal or if you want to go ahead with a jury trial in which case, we will still need the bond posted within 10 days.
